Huge Tidal Wave Sweeps Wharves

BOSTON, Nov. 24.—A tide which backed by an easterly gale attained a rise of 12 feet, ran over wharves on the water front today brought confusion to shipping at anchor and caused washouts on railroad tracks along the shore. It was the highest tide of the year and the stiffest gale. The wind reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour on harbor gauges. New boats displaced automobiles as conveyances on Winthrop thoroughfares. The sea broke over the wall there, the waves reaching a height of forty and fifty feet, and inundating the streets adjacent to the shore.

ONE WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Of Interest to Expectant Mothers.

Goshen, Ind.—I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results after I had suffered for some time with female trouble. Some years ago I had twin boys and took your Vegetable Compound before they came, also before my four-year-old boy was born, and afterwards, and think it fine for such cases. I tell others what it did for me and you may publish my testimonial. Mrs. Geo. A. Fos, 711 S. 9th St., Goshen, Ind.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores women normal, healthy and strong and this good old fashioned root and herb remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

Is Accused Of Reckless Driving

W. S. Thomas, steel worker, living in the flat over the Corner Book Store, was taken into custody by the police Tuesday night on a warrant issued from Municipal court charging him with reckless driving.

The complaint was filed by Fred Kitzley, Boulevard chauffeur, and grew out of a collision between automobiles which occurred on Selco Trail Monday night, when the accused, it is claimed, ran his truck into Kitzley's Ford touring car, almost demolishing it, and seriously injuring Walter Barney, a Boulevard steel worker.

The collision occurred near the intersection of the Boulevard road and the Trail and at the time Kitzley and Barney had stopped their machines on the east side of the road and were transferring gasoline from one to the other.

When the crash came Barney was caught between his car and Kitzley's machine and was badly crushed about the hips besides sustaining other painful bruises. His condition through Tuesday was serious, but this morning he was reported considerably improved.

Thomas following his arrest, was released on bond pending his hearing before Judge Small in Municipal court.

Mrs. Durrin is especially interested in the questions of the day. Be sure to hear her subject, "Mother and the Girl."

This popular lecture will speak at the Nile Township Farmers' Institute, Wednesday December 1st.

Keep Your Blood Pure

Nature Will Do The Rest

Did you know that almost per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unmistakable sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of keeping the blood supply pure.

For this purpose, no remedy can equal S. S. S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forest, it is purely vegetable, and contains no mineral substance.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your druggist, or by mail, and not how promptly it begins to show up the impurities and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Officer, S. S. S. Laboratories, Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

FARE INCREASE PROPOSITION IS PUT UP TO RAILWAY CO.

The open meeting of New Boston Council held Tuesday night at which the application for an increase in fare proposed by the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company was a special order of business considered in the submission to company officials of a proposition formulated at a recent joint meeting of Portsmouth and New Boston councils as a solution of the problem.

The proposition which was as follows: "Five tickets for 25 cents, 6 cent cash fare; 3 cent fare for transfers from Scitoville line to be good as far as Norfolk street, East Portsmouth; additional cars to be operated on main line so as to maintain 10 minute schedule, increase to extend over period of five years" was taken under advisement by officials of the company who will take it up and work out the details with special committees from each Council. The committees composed of Mayor W. N. Gableman, Solicitor S. A. Skelton and Councilman Edward Westphal, representing Portsmouth and Mayor J. S. Davis, Solicitor Harry Hall and Councilman M. H. Bidwell, representing New Boston, will then report back to their respective councils.

H. D. York, vice president and general manager of the company, made a concession to New Boston by promising to light the streets over which the car line travels in the village and he declared that if the company feels that it can make concessions to Scitoville patrons in regard to their contribution of one fare to Portsmouth it would do so.

"We want to take care of Scitoville patrons as well as all others and we want to get this matter straightened out."

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People affected with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, cleaning the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound made with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

of out on a fair basis to all concerned," Mr. York said, "and if it goes through the people will demand results and if we accept any increase voted you may rest assured we will deliver the goods."

Continuing Mr. York stated that it was no selfish motive behind the application of the company for an increase and asserted they were simply endeavoring to formulate plans whereby the company would be put in a position to give the people the service they want.

Frank L. Sikes of Scitoville, appeared and protested against limiting transfers from the Scitoville line to Norfolk St. declaring that it was an unjust discrimination against Scitoville patrons, who he asserted, were entitled to be hauled to Portsmouth for a single fare. He claimed that women workers off Scitoville that are employed in Portsmouth were entitled to as much consideration as the workmen of Scitoville that are employed at the N. & W. shops who would be carried for one fare under the proposed arrangement.

"We are now a part of Portsmouth and we demand the same privileges in demanding a one fare concession," Sikes stated, "in pointing out that persons of the city get a much longer haul for one fare."

Fire At Fugitive

IRONTON, Nov. 24—A man using the name of P. C. Clark, and registering from Washington, D. C. but whose baggage would indicate he is from the Bronx, of Huntington, West Virginia, was arrested last night by Officer Kenall at the Ironton Hotel at Third and Lawrence streets on suspicion of passing bogus checks and escaped from the police while enroute to the city prison.

Clark had been at the hotel since Monday and Tuesday evening offered a check on a bank at Washington, D.

C. in payment for lodging. The bank duly accepted the check but became suspicious and called Officer Kenall, who informed her that he had a stolen check for $20 which was taken in by a South Side grocer and was looking for the man. The officer placed the man under arrest and was going out Lawrence street toward the police station when he broke and ran. Officer Kenall gave chase and fired four shots at the fugitive but he ran to Fifth, down to Buckhorn and out Buckhorn to the river front where he succeeded in eluding pursuit.

Wednesday, December 1, is the date set for the Christmas Seal Sale to raise money for the fight against tuberculosis. Portsmouth has its share in this fight, which is waged in this city at the Dispensary and the Fresh Air Camp and in the homes of sufferers from the dread disease, by the doctors and nurses of the Bureau of Community Service. For several years the Bureau has been the authorized agency for this work and has carried on this sale.

Of the modest sum raised last December, $753.25 was used for the local work for the Fresh Air Camp and for undernourished children, the balance of it for milk and eggs, warm clothing, transportation to sanitariums, for T. B. patients in sanitariums, etc.

The Bureau is under contract to the State Seal Committee and makes a report on the work, furnished by the Ohio Public Health Association, as to the number of seals sold by canvassers and what was done with the money. All stamps are issued by one person in the Bureau office and returns made to the same person. Each person selling stamps is responsible for the number of stamps received and must return either money or stamps to the value of the number received.

Agents or helpers in school or factory, church or society, all must return money or stamps, and a strict account is kept of all when all the money and stamps are turned in and a final count is made. 50 per cent of the returns are returned to the state organization and the remainder, 50 per cent, used for the local work.

This year the State Association has asked the Federation of Women's Clubs to co-operate, through its club members all over the state, in raising a larger sum than ever before, and plans are being made by local club women to aid in the sale.

Baker Robbed

A handsome gold watch and eight dollars in cash was the loot obtained by the thief or thieves who entered the W. A. Adams Bakery, Stanton Avenue, New Boston, between six and seven o'clock Tuesday night and rifled the clothes of Dick Nutter, a baker, while he was at work in another room.

Mr. Nutter discovered the theft shortly after seven o'clock but failed to notify the police authorities until early Wednesday morning when footprints were discovered outside the bakery in an alley. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail and they tracked the tracks to the river front where the trail was lost, the escape evidently having been made in a row boat.

ROBBERY FRUSTRATED

An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter Phil Wolf's clothing store, 1537 Chillicothe street, early this morning. When employees of the store arrived for work they found the outside part of the big lock on the north Chillicothe street door on the sidewalk. Merchant Policeman Will Goltz was at the store at three o'clock and found everything in perfect order, he says. This indicates the attempt to enter the store was made after three o'clock.

Coroner Is Investigating

Coroner Warner, of Adams county, Tuesday started an investigation into the tragic deaths of Gillen Tomlin, aged 5, and Mrs. Mary Tomlin, aged 25, who drowned herself after killing her little son, and badly injuring her daughter, Hazel, with an axe. Concerning the double tragedy, the Manchester Signal Tuesday said:

When the distracted mother left the home she had three hundred dollars in her pockets and the price of a span of mules that she had recently sold, on her person. 32 cents was found at the cottage.

All preparations had been made for winter. Several suits of children's wear were neatly folded and children's toys were boxed in a motherly fashion. Everything about the cottage was in order; even the flow of blood from the healthy country youth coursed over a clean bare floor. Aged neighbors who called to render aid, turned sick at the ghastly condition of the once orderly home.

Monroe township, as usual in an emergency, turned in a body to lend a hand in any manner suggested.

The father of the children was at John Tomlin's home, but did not express an opinion on the misfortune of his home.

Meritcourt loosened the strap which held her to her seat. Another moment and the bonds which kept her in the midst of life's tragedies would be freed. She would plunge to eternity. Circumstances had been too much for Eve, the little convent girl.

Then a sudden tremendous crash and crackle about the frail aircraft. The storm had burst right on them. A splintering roar and one wing of the machine was ripped off like paper.

What happened to Eve and to the repulsive old millionaire who had pursued and finally captured her, using her sense of duty to a bankrupt father as the bait? Program Tonight

A—Maurice Tournieur's "The Great Redeemer."

B—International Weekly News.

C—Billy Franey in "Fighting Lizzie."

The Maurice Tournieur super production of "The Great Redeemer," described as one of the greatest stories ever filmed, will be the feature attraction at the Eastland theatre for a run of two days beginning tonight. Advance reports of this feature declare it to be a work of the highest art, the unfolding of which carries a moral message of overwhelming power and profound conviction.

"The Great Redeemer" is told in a picturesque western setting, its central character being Dan Malloy, a desperado and train robber. It is filled also with tender love interest, exciting adventures and spiritual exaltation. The narrative concerns the regeneration of the intrepid Dan after he has been caught robbing the mail train and is incarcerated in prison. There a miracle befalls him, and the action resulting from it culminates in dramatic situations of transcendent interest.

H. B. Van Loan, is the author.

An all star cast, interpreted the exciting story of "The Great Redeemer." Most prominent in the ensemble are House Peters, who has the role of Dan Malloy, and Marjorie Daw, who appears as the girl.

DEATH TAKES 3RD VICTIM OF DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

Mother And Children Are Together In Grave

Death at 6 o'clock this morning claimed Kenneth, two months old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Toulon, who reside in Monroe Township. Adams county and six miles back of Manchester, marking the third death in this terrible domestic tragedy.

The mother on Monday killed her five year old son, GILLES, seriously wounded her two year old daughter, Hazel and then drowned herself in Irish Creek near her home.

At the time it was not thought that she had wounded her infant son, Kenneth, but later it was disclosed that she evidently struck at the child, but the axe blade missed it. The handle struck it across the breast and it died from internal injuries, making the death toll in the family three.

Word came from Manchester this morning that Hazel, was in a serious condition and was not expected to live. The body of Mrs. Toulon, her sons GILLES and Kenneth were placed in the same coffin and they occupy the same grave in the Manchester cemetery.

The triple funeral was conducted from the First Presbyterian church in Manchester at 10 o'clock this morning and the last rites of the victims were in charge of Rev. Wilson Sitt. As the funeral procession wound its way into the church there was hardly a dry eye in the congregation. It was one of the saddest affairs in the history of Manchester. The mother, who when half crazed over the fear of losing her "babies" killed two of them and ended her own life had one child on one arm and one on the other. Hundreds of Manchester residents viewed the bodies this morning, many farmers driving as far as 20 and 25 miles to view them. All Monroe township turned out for the funeral as Mrs. Toulon was born and reared there and always bore a splendid reputation. She was a hard working woman and the triple tragedy has thoroughly aroused the community.

BATTLE-SCARRED VETERAN VICTOR IN FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

"HAPPY" CHARLEY STANLEY. He Lost His Leg Fighting Plague

"HAPPY" CHARLEY STANLEY, 42 years old, of Greenville, O., is a hero in the battle against tuberculosis. He lost a leg fighting the plague, but he has saved his life.

"Happy" is a living example of what sanatoria treatment and modern surgery, plus a lot of real grit and a happy disposition will do for children afflicted with tuberculosis as he was.

Charles is one of 30 or more children ranging in age from 3 years to 16 years "taking the cure" at the Franklin County Sanatorium. He had tuberculosis of the knee. His lungs were also affected. Dr. Robert C. Drury, one of the leading surgeons of Columbus, who is also chief surgeon of the tuberculosis sanatorium, amputated his leg, and Doctors "Sunshine" and "Fresh Air" are taking care of his lungs.

Hellotherapy or "sunshine" treatment is the method used at the Franklin County Sanatorium. To take this treatment all of the children dress like Charles—no shirts or coats—just a pair of trunks and that's all. They are brown as little Indians.

Throughout the state of Ohio there are hundreds of little boys and girls afflicted as was Charles Stanley. Few counties have any provision at all for caring for the tuberculosis children. The voters of Franklin county two years ago authorized a bond issue of $152,000 to build a children's building separate from the main hospital for adults. It is nearing completion.

To the annual sale of the Christmas Seals, beginning Dec. 1, this year, local health societies are being urged to increase the sales of seals in order that more money may be made available for promoting health work among children.

CHARLES ("HAPPY") STANLEY.

Campaign Will Close Thanksgiving Evening

The total of 501 subscriptions received from the Seely Shoe Company has boosted the total of memberships received in the Red Cross Roll Call and with encouraging reports expected from the various house-to-house canvassers and the Whitaker-Glessner Company, officials are confident that the Roll Call will bring in more memberships than last year.

Canvassers in the various banks of the city last night secured a goodly number of new members. Four canvassers in Solonville, have secured more memberships this year than were secured last year and they have sent into headquarters for more supplies. School teachers of the city are responding to the call, and the majority of them have enrolled in the Red Cross and are using their efforts to further the success of the drive.

The Red Cross will attempt to bring the Roll Call to an end by Thanksgiving night and with the hearty cooperation of the people of the city who have not as yet subscribed, the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call can be brought to a successful completion.

County districts who failed to report a single subscription last year are reporting splendid results in this Roll Call. The following results were turned in at the Red Cross headquarters Wednesday afternoon: Wheelersburg 80, Lucasville 72, Solonville 70, South Webster 60, Friendship 24, N. & W. shops 100, Excelsior 140.

Ricker, chairman of the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call, spoke at the chapel exercises at the high school this morning and collected a number of boys and girls to aid in the canvassing both in the high school and in the city at large. These who are to help in the canvassing are Misses Esther Barnes, Lela Burton, Alma Gable, Thelma Chabot, Dorothy Dabbs, Ruth Evans, Eleanor Ellison, Orlene Evans, Mary Louise Seely, Myrtle Pease, Dorothy Friend, Page Greer, Evelyn Gels, Dorothy Goetz, Susan Gould, Lucille Graham, Ruth Cottle, Katherine Hanson, Pauline Gibbs, Josephine Chubb, Helen Goldstein, Elizabeth Greer, Wilma Bee, Clara McGuire, Marjorie Stearns, Gladys Doty, Elizabeth Kerk, Gertrude Licht, Ines Martin, Maude Matlock, Virginia Robinson, Lucy Newman, Beatrice Lathrop, Margaret Lauffer, Ida Allen, Lela Atkinson, Marie Bohlander, Ella Brady, Mabel Oakes, Marie Parks, Judith Quasser, Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, Elsie Dargatz, Ikeris Davis, Mary Sloan, Elsie Spring, Audrey Wilson, Thelma Workman, Margaret Stanfield, Esther Graf, Margaret Gustaf, Lila Reed, Esther Gertrude Hood, Dorothea Henneman, Louise King, Eva Morgan and Gordon White, Gordon Green, Fred McFar, Frederick Deuschle, Lowell Peeler, Lowell Adams, Lloyd Baker, Edith Ricker, Everett Hayes, Emerson Hoover, Thomas Richardson, Harold Wilhelm, Richard Young, Charles Frederick, Kenneth Davis, Paul Lykens and Richard Prediger.

Cantata At Bigelow Church

The Triumph of Faith is a cantata to the charm of music. It has been produced by the director and choir of the beauty and power of the cantata.

Marion E. Kelly is the author. Her phrasing is simple, but very effective. In the Dream of Youth and The Call to Arms especially, is seen the idealistic fervor of youth and of the higher patriotism.

The music is by Lynn B. Dana. There are strong choruses and solos that thrill those who are susceptible to the charm of music.

The instrumental arrangement for this production may be a little new, but all who hear will be pleased. The cantata loses nothing in dignity and gains much in popular favor. It is printed. There will be copies for sale. Seven o'clock Sunday night at Bigelow church.

THE KING OF YVETOT
THERE used to be a little kingdom, down in southern France, called Yvetot. It took up not much more than three good city blocks square. The king of France paid it a visit, with all the fuss that goes with such a celebration, away back in legendary days.
Now, the lord of Yvetot was a wise old owl, and he served up deep apple pie, or custard tarts, or whatever it is kings like for dessert, and tickled his ribs the king of France right merrily.
So the real king made him a little play king. And Yvetot was the world's smallest kingdom. Bye and bye, in 1691, the king of Yvetot, began to feel his oats, and the real king of his day slapped him on the wrist by taking his kingship away.
But though you may think the joke is on the king of Yvetot, perhaps it is on the kings of France instead. For in France today, when folk speak of a straw boss who tries to be a smart aleck, they call him the king of Yvetot. But whoever, now in all the world, except it be in a history lesson, refers to a king of France?

THE AMERICAN GIRL FOREVER
EUROPE has long viewed with envious eyes and covetous soul America's resources. The United States has been the land favored by the gods, blessed with everything that the old countries lacked -- money, food, natural resources. Now it is suddenly discovered that your Uncle Sam has surplus bachelors and Europe wants our bachelors.
In France alone, as has been prominently pointed out several times since the war, there are four women to every three men. One woman in every four, it seems, is condemned to life as a spinster, and France to a dearth of children in the next generation.
France points to her superfluous women with pathetic pride. She invites American bachelors to come over and marry them. For France, always gallant, is too chivalrous publicly to advocate the exportation of her women, even superfluous women, as is now the practice in other countries where the same condition prevails. She would have the man come to the woman in this extremity, just as he would in normal times and circumstances. So France is telling us what fine wires the French women make, what models they are as housekeepers.
True enough, but whom among our superfluous men shall America export to France, along with our money, our grain and our manufactured articles? And who shall do the picking, and the packing? And how long would they stay exported, even in beautiful France? Which leads to the question: Shall the superfluous bachelors have anything to say about the matter, and if they do, would they submit to exportation at all?
All of which, of course, as was quite clear from the beginning, is purposely turning our heads away from the perfectly obvious stumbling block in the path of the whole project -- the American woman. Our men like her too well to desert her.

Chicago girls are daring. They are showing a bit of their ears.
The last word is very often the one that should not have been spoken.
An anarchist is a person who wants to use dynamite in his up-lift work.
Many persons need to get over the idea that big pay and little work harmonize.
The right to kick is the one supremely cherished heritage of the American people.
It is almost certain some men may be found by going where there is the loudest talking.
Germany is slowly getting on her feet, says a headline, but her corns make her grouchy.
Who can remember the old days when a man thought he should deliver more work for more pay?
The increased cost of wives in Burma is noted. However, we believe the condition is general.
How does it come that a man's courage oozes out at the end of his fingers when he gets cold feet?
One of the difficulties of the average person is to keep the neighbors from finding out too much.

THE CITY OF ANGELS
By Frederic J. Haskin

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., November 24.—Los Angeles has just passed through the proudest moment of its very proud life. This was when the United States census estimated the city's population at 575,000, thereby proving it to have about 70,000 more people than San Francisco.
For there is a painful and prodigious rivalry between these two cities of the Pacific Coast, which is most bewildering to the visitor. It is surprising enough to find California a self-appointed Eden, far removed by climate and other superior attractions from the rest of a pitiful superiority over the other half of the world. At least, it is for a more humble Easterner, unacquainted with the glorious wonders of the state, and permitted only a brief respite from his hapless home in which to meditate.
"Oh, you would like the northern part of the state," you are informed in mentioning that your travels are not to lead here in the City of Angels. "It's windy, and it rains most of the time, and the people are more like Easterners. No, if you want to see the best of California, you'd better make Los Angeles your headquarters and take your joyous trips to the south where you can enjoy the true California climate."
But upon the same day that you receive this advice, you are apt to meet a north-Californian, unaccountably strayed south, who cherishes an entirely different opinion.
"The real California is in the north of the state," he will tell you, "scarcely, inferring that you are a misguided Easterner would need to be corrected on this point. The climate here is too warm and overcast—it needs a little wind to stir things up. And all of the scenery is in the north—the Yosemite, Del Norte, Lake Tahoe, Mt. Shasta, and San Francisco. Why, this isn't a city; it's only a country town. And the country is so dry that they have to water it constantly. Keep it from drying up and blowing away. They even have to irrigate their harbor here."

The Harbor
But the subject of the Los Angeles Harbor is sufficient to keep a north-Californian talking in scathing accents for an hour. "It's not really there," he will tell you, "but belongs to San Pedro. San Pedro is an independent town, but they made it join their township by refusing to supply it with water if it didn't. That's how they got their population, too—making all the little towns about here join and how that they've got the harbor, which will they do with it? It's not even ornamental."
Yes, Los Angeles has to stand on enormous amount of chaffing about its new harbor from other harbors of California, but it is exceedingly good-natured in defending itself. It is true that nature, which has been so generous, in bestowing gifts on this section, did not give it a harbor, and that, therefore, one had to be made at great expense to the city, but Los Angeles believes that this enterprise was necessary to its development, and that even now it is beginning to pay dividends.
"You see, the city is entering an era of tremendous development," explained one of its prominent citizens, who conducted the reporter about the city. "In 1880 we were only a sleepy Mexican pueblo, with a few American personalities and a population of only 12,000. Now there are nearly 600,000 of us, and we are attracting the largest industries in the country because of our splendid resources and facilities."
"Within a few miles of the city nearly one-fourth of the entire oil supply of the United States is produced. The shipment of oil is the greatest of products from this port is the greatest of any in the United States. In turn, the port receives more lumber for distribution throughout the southwest than any other of the nation's harbors."

composed of glass. Sometimes 10 or 20 separate bungalows are built about a flower-trimmed court, and run on the apartment house principle, with hot water and heat supplied from a central plant in charge of the superintendent.
With the exception of the servant problem, which is particularly acute in California, the upkeep of a home here is comparatively simple matter. It is, in most cases, small and compact, requires little fuel, owing to the gentle nature of the climate, and its table can be supplied at surprisingly little expense. Food, especially fruits and fresh vegetables, are cheap compared to prices in the East, while the outdoor groceries in which they are sold make marketing almost an agreeable experience.
Then, there is always the cafeteria to fall back upon when housekeeping loses its zest. These institutions are gradually springing up throughout the entire country, but the true cafeteria, with orchestra and comfortable leather-upholstered lobby, is still produced exclusively on the Pacific Coast. In such a one it is actually difficult to spend more than 50 cents for a meal, and any check over a dollar brings a grunt of surprise from the cash girl.
Thus, those who are weary and heavy-laden with long, cold winters, and nerve-racking activity, find a peace and comfort in Los Angeles, which change their very facial expressions. The whole atmosphere is easy-going. Business does not interfere with pleasure, but it gets transacted just the same. And it is these adopted sons who outcried even the natives in shouting the praises of California. To them, California is, as so many can tell you, the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.
Q. Where can I find out if a store or rock that I have found contains any material of value? J. D.
A. The United States Geological Survey is prohibited by law from making assays for the use of private parties or associations. If you will send a sample of your stone or rock to the survey at Washington, D. C., they will have an opinion based on a test of the specimen. If an assay is desired the proper course is to employ a private assayer or chemist.
Q. Can a rainbow be seen at night?
M. L. C.
A. If the moon is shining brightly while it is raining, a rainbow may be seen at night.
Q. How much does plate glass weigh? A. H. H.
A. Plate glass weighs about 12 pounds to the square foot. It will vary somewhat, since it varies in thickness from three-eighths to one-half an inch.
Q. Where did the word known as devil's palm come from? O. P.
A. Orange hawkweed, also known as devil's palm, is a plant with a thick, fleshy, rounded leaf, and a single flower. It is a native of Europe, and is now found in the worst hay fields and pasture lands in New England, New York and Pennsylvania.

New-York-Day-By-Day
BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—These are hard days in the ghetto. A curfew law is on among these picturesque, curb merchants of the East Side. The ghetto trade mart is dazed by a lack of customers and money. Business, in the ghetto market, has "gone already to Ker-Smack!" The market surges and lobbies and hurrahs at the corner of Bayard and Elizabeth streets.
That came with summer heat. And all the happy summer days. In Grandma's garden sweet. We're thankful for the autumn's store. When fields are bare and gray. And all the year that brings one more. Our dear Thanksgiving Day.
—Youth's Companion.
Hiram Was Onto Them City Guys
Becoming unmanageable from some unknown cause, a small car turned the corner, ran westward onto a slanted sidewalk, and plunged over into the street below.
As the vehicle took the leap, its driver jumped or was flung out, but managed to catch on the broken railing, hanging for a horrible moment on the brink of death and then scrambled back to safety.
"Merciful powers!" ejaculated a pedestrian below. "What a narrow escape!"
"Shucks!" returned the gent from Hingham Junction who was on hand. "That wasn't no escape; it was just a trick of some kind. They can't fool me!"
Indecent
Husband and wife were at the movie show. During a love scene she nudged hubby and inquired:
"Why is it that you never made love to me like that?"
"Because," he responded precociously, "I didn't get paid to do it, like that chap."—Fitts Inn.
The Rent Hog
"This is Mr. Diogenes," I believe, with a rising intonation, said the stranger who had approached the philosopher's residential tub.
"Yes," responded the sage. "And no doubt you are the honest man for whom I have been hunting, and because I have overlooked you, you have come to make yourself known?"
"Not at all," was the reply. "On the contrary, I am the owner of this tub, and am here to raise your rent 50 per cent."

Long whiskered merchants stand all day under awnings, clothes and linens of all description, over their venerable shoulders, carry strings of unrelated shoes, hats, blankets and flannel-jumps. The street in trade has caused the greatest concentration of anything since the first day five years ago when Sam Greenbaum, over on Livingston street, put a jazz orchestra in his kiosk, and took all the customers from Pauline's restaurant across the street.
The ghetto pulls some of the large profits. "Say," said one merchant who was trying to get rid of some remarkable striped shirts at 99 cents each. "If I could ever get my eye on a drunken sailor again I'd die for joy." During the war buoyantly he had been reckless customers and even if they did not suit the whims of the merchant and play rian across the street with them they spent money freely.
These days the retailers, a people crowded from all nations, pace up and down outside their stores like hungry wolves. The passerby who makes a mistake like money is not invited in. He is dragged in by the hair of the head. A word is necessary. Most of their stock is carried on their backs, but they always have a whisper. It quickly comes "fine stylish garment, you wouldn't believe such a bargain!" Inside.
One wrinkled merchant, who spent his boyhood in Omsk, tried to sell me a mink overcoat, real fur quality, man, just like the swell sports wear it up on Broadway, for $15. I got indignantly haggled to see how far he would take it. He came down to $12.25 and then waited. "O Lord, come on, Ker-Smack or I will go to it in bankruptcy." His wife appeared from the dark recesses in the back and tried to complete the sale.
While quotations were dropping a quarter at a time, a young black-haired checked son sat on a dry goods box—his name was Zulu—reading a novel entitled: "How to Talk to Women in Winter." He quickly turned to the back and tried to complete the sale.
She was magnificently groomed, stately and had the austere dignity of a cat. She was waiting under a cafe entrance for her carriage which the starter flashed the mink in electric lights. There was a large car for there was a heavy line of cars. Out of the lobby came a highly personified looking for comfort. He twisted the tip of his thin mustache as he approached her. Then he walked over, lifted his hat and held out his hand. She took it, her eyes filled with wonder. She thought she had nearly failed to recognize an acquaintance or he was making a mistake. Then she suddenly realized it was a vulgar flirtation. Like a cat, her hand leaped to his face and was drawn quickly down his cheek. It felt like a faintly red line. And he retreated in consternation. Film dramatic. It seemed into the newspaper for a day and died. O yes, the fair was staring in a film. The name of it was something like "The Tigers Claw." But one wonders what the poor fish got for having his face scratched.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News
O. B. BURNETT
O. B. Burnett of Grand Forks, N. D., will succeed John M. Day to represent in the national house of representatives from the First North Dakota district. Congressman Day, widely regarded about three years ago as the first Non-Partisan House member of Congress, was defeated by Burnett by a majority of about 11,500.
Two years ago Burnett and Day were rival candidates. Their winning then by a majority of about 2,500.
Burnett has been a member of the North Dakota House of Representatives for four years. He is a lawyer by profession.
Acquainted
Well, now since we fit we are much of a kind.
Neither one of us deviled nor sainted.
We would better not preach very much, each to each.
But just try to keep better acquainted.
—By Edmund Vance Cooke.
She Knew
Margaret lived in a gossip neighborhood, and being an observant child, had a number of ideas stored away in her curly head. One day she was naughty and was sent upstairs to confess her transgressions.
"Did you tell God all about it?" asked her mother when the child came down stairs.
"Dead I didn't," declared Margaret. "It would have been all over heaven in no time."
Hard Task
With much whip cracking and cries of encouragement the old man had just got his donkey cart to the outskirts of the town. Then his jaw dropped as he read on a sign post: "Speed limit, ten miles an hour."
He pulled his whippers a moment in silent meditation, and then draved on to his donkey. "Well, I know we'll never make it, Noddy, but we'll do our best!"

After Lying To The Wife

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Round for leavenworth, Kansas, to fill a ten round boxing engagement in the federal penitentiary, Gus Rhodes, Jack Johnson's nephew left Chicago today with George Owens of New Orleans, a negro fighter of 235 pounds.

The bout, which will be held Thursday afternoon before the prisoners, is for the purpose of finding out the former champion's present condition and to give him a thorough tryout.

Reports from the penitentiary have it that Johnson is engaged as athletic trainer for the prison and has aroused interest there in athletic work. He is said to be in good condition for his bout with Owens.

IT'S A TOUGH JOB TO COP THIRTY GAMES IN BIG LEAGUES

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—Although he stated last night that a post-season football game between Ohio State and Notre Dame would not be considered, L. W. St. John, university athletic director, early this morning said that an invitation for a game at Columbus, California, between Ohio State and some western team would be received favorably, should it be extended.

St. John said he had assurance that the faculty and athletic board of Ohio State would approve such a contest and that he believed mention of a western conference officials was probable.

Ohio State alumni in California have notified him that the western conference champions were being considered for a new year's day contest, St. John said.

New Basketball Rules

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Two important changes in the rules of the inter-collegiate basketball league, were made public today.

The first will permit a player who has been taken out of the game at any time to be sent back later, provided he has not committed four personal fouls which automatically results in his disqualification for the entire game. The second change provides that after a "held ball" beneath the basket, the ball will be brought out to the fifteen foot line and tossed up.

Real Scrap In Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—Phil O'Dwyer of Columbus and Jimmie Katz of Cleveland will stage a ten round decision fight here tonight, the feature number on a five bout card.

To Select Captain

Members of the P. H. S. football team will meet Wednesday or Thursday to select the captain for 1921. It is said that Center Jack Greany has the inside track for the captaincy.

First Call Is Answered

Forty-five athletes answered the first call of the P. H. S. basketball team yesterday afternoon and enjoyed a real workout. The basketball season probably will be opened early in January with Chilliote III as the opponents of P. H. S.

Landis To Decide

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Records of the old National baseball commission have been transferred from Cincinnati to Chicago in preparation for the opening of offices here for Judge Landis as ruler of the major leagues. By a visit to Cincinnati last week, Judge Landis familiarized himself with the workings of the old National commission and soon is to begin consideration of baseball problems.

One of the first important decisions expected, according to reports, is the division of about $15,000 among members of the White Sox team, which earned second place money in the 1920 race. Strong opposition has arisen in some quarters to the proposal to exclude from shares the seven former White Sox players under indictment for participation "in throwing" the 1919 world series.

The remaining members of the 1920 Sox team have voted to split the money into sixteen and one-half shares, making about $400 apiece, and excluding the seven suspended players. This settlement has been opposed on the ground that, while indicted, the seven have not been convicted, and some of them deny the charges of crookedness. Arguments before Judge Landis as to the supreme arbitrator are expected to decide the settlement soon.

Reserve To Play Case

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 24.—Indications are that Western Reserve will take the field against Case, Thanksgiving Day in their annual classic for the college football honors with one of its stars, Bud Cathcart, fullback, out of the lineup. Cathcart was kicked in the back and forced to retire from the recent Kenyon game. An X-ray

Too Many Changes Would Hurt Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Suggestions recently advanced by Percy D. Haughton, former Harvard football coach, that a forward pass blocked behind the line of scrimmage be subject to recovery by the defending team has not met with favor by many coaches.

William H. (Big Bill) Edwards, Princeton captain said if they keep on changing the rules they will kill the game.

Chick Meacham, Syracuse coach, declared that the suggestion, if adopted would tend to make the game less open because passes would be more dangerous and the light college eleven would be handicapped.

Buck O'Neil, Columbia coach, said such a grounded pass would cause a lively scramble in which players would be more liable to injury.

Bob Folwell, head coach of the Navy said he had not given the idea much thought but he believed it was worth while considering.

Army Vs. Navy Next

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 24.—"Come Eleven" is the latest slogan at the naval academy but its popularity does not mean that the 2000 or more midshipmen have become addicted to "rolling the bones."

The figures are regarded as a "hand" for the success of Navy over Army in Saturday's football game because the series of games now stands 11 victories for Army 10 for Navy and another Navy victory will place the teams on an even basis.

Combined with "come eleven" the students also are shouting "Navy victory" because the two words contain eleven letters.

Another slogan is "eleventh victory for eleven men."

very much fun kidding George over his work of last evening. That has been a weekly expression for "Button" but he will have to pass it up like an old diary man will turkey tomorrow. "Pat" hit 'em up for 500 last evening, shooting remarkably clever and with deadly effectiveness. Right close to him all the time was Dr. Frankie Freese, stone Spencer, anchor man for the Horribles. The eminent hunter and some times egotistical dresser, grabbed off a total of 564, and most of his friends yell better that dreams come true. While these two worthies, Messrs. Patton and Spencer, were in the spotlight all evening, one of the most remarkable facts was the work of Walter Wilhelm, captain of the Horribles, in the opening game. Walter shot for the minute, sent him of 161—no question about it, boys he did, by gum. Thereafter, he resumed his journey in his natural way. Cassie Chalkwick Hopp, lead man for the Horribles, was fair-very good for Chad. Oh, yes, the readers of this truthful recorder of facts, will recall two out of three at the Play House alley, last evening, due mainly to the fact that Mr. George Washington Patton, formerly of Adams county, had a good night as anchor man, standing a "backback" that was good to see at close range. George, who is one of the hard hitting kind of artists, was in the lead, earnest, last evening and "Button" scored, elevator man at the first National Bank building will not have IRONTON, Nov. 24—A man using the name of P. C. Clark, and registering from Washington, D. C. but whose language would indicate he is Robert Brooks, of Huntington, West Virginia, was arrested late last night by Officer Kendall at the Ironton Hotel at Third and Lawrence streets on suspicion of passing bogus checks and escaped from the officer while enroute to the city prison. Clark had been at the hotel since Monday and Tuesday evening offered a check on a bank at Washington, D. C. in payment for lodging. The landlady accepted the check but became suspicious and called Officer Kendall, who informed her that he had a check for $20 which was taken in by a South Side grocer and was looking for the man. The officer placed the man under arrest and was going out Lawrence street toward the police station when he broke and ran.
